NORMALITES ARE CHILDREN ADMITTED UNABLE TO HOLD FREE TO PASTIME THE VARSITY AND CRYSTAL

Score of 56 to 0 Tells Tale of Yesterday's Battle on Santa Fe Gridiron, Varsity Taking Long End.

Because the Normal University team was unable to hold the Varsity aggregation, either through lack of speed or team work, the men from the local school yesterday ran up a score of 56 to 0 on the unfortunate Las Vegas.

The Meadow City boys put up a game fight, but there was nothing in the scoring line. Gladding got pushed across for a touchdown five minutes after he had kicked off, and from that time on there was something disagreeable happening to Las Vegas every minute. Carlyle, Calkins, Arena, Lemke, Gladding and Hamilton played fine ball. Lemke was only in the game for a few minutes, but displayed his usual speed and cleverness while playing. Hill ran the team better than he has been doing and handled punts with marked ability.

REPRESENTED THE BROADWAY SQUAD FOR A WHILE

Then the Kindly Encircling Arms of Patrolman Knapp Took Vicente Flores Home to the City Hoose-Gow.

Vicente Flores yesterday looked too long, or it may be, not long enough, on the wine when it was very, very red. Alas, poor Vicente. This morning he appeared before Judge George H. Craig, and that kindly official of the judiciary sent him to jail for five days, with the understanding that if he contributed five iron men to the city coffers instead, it would be all right. Now, the how, why and wherefore of this sentence was busy. Vicente got most usefully polluted. In fact, he drank so much champagne, that he became imbued not only with mirth and spirituous liquors but with the idea that he was in New York. Vicente had never been in New York, but he had read the papers. And further, as the lawyers say, he became imbued with the additional idea that he was a policeman, in short, he was so very badly illuminated by the judge's justice he had consumed, that though he really measures only about five feet four, he added several cubits to his stature by taking, not thought, but liquid refreshment, and started out to be a traffic squad all by himself.

This was yesterday afternoon. The place was the corner of Second and Central avenues. Vicente twirled his club at the approaching street cars, waved his vast white glove at the drivers of impatient taxis, and generally manipulated traffic in the correct and proper manner.

Ask him not how he did it, for when arraigned this morning, he wept and said he had forgotten, beside the judge was his father and his mother, and besides he was a poor man.

But the powers that watch over drunken men saw to it that Vicente ruled the traffic with a rod of imagination, and was not damaged in the ruling. And just about the time when all the street car motormen, pedestrians, drivers of wagons, chauffeurs and all the rest of the heterogeneous jam that makes Central avenue crowded about four o'clock every afternoon, had been trained to respect the slightest wish of this dictator, Policeman Alex Knapp came along and gathered poor, tired, Vicente into his capacious arms and took him along to that safe harbor, the city battle.

DAMAGE BY FLOODS UNDERESTIMATED IN NORTHWEST

Irrigation Engineer Robinson Returned from San Juan; Says Indians Suffered Less Than Railroads.

General H. F. Robinson returned last night from the San Juan country where he has been for two weeks investigating the conditions brought about by the floods there several weeks ago. General Robinson is head of the irrigation department of the Indian service in this district.

He said that in many cases the damage done by the flood waters had been considerably underestimated, and in others it had been over estimated.

"The Indians did not suffer so much," he said, "but the railroads suffered a great deal. The Indians had some irrigation works washed out and some good land, to which we had planned a little ditch, was washed away, so that now we won't build the ditch. This spot was near Four Corners, where Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado come together."

"But the railroads got it badly. The Denver and Rio Grande will have a million dollars worth of repairs on the fourth division alone. There were 60 miles of track on this division of which there was but little stretches left. All the stretch must be rebuilt."

"There are but two wagon bridges left in the San Juan country. One of these is across the Animas and the other across the San Juan. The first train from Denver to Durango was run in day before yesterday. The first train over the Farmington branch will run today. These are the first trains since the flood, 12 days ago."

"I was a week getting in to the place where my camp was, two days going north from Santa Fe to Antonito, a distance of 110 miles over rail, and another two days getting from there to Durango. Then it took me two days and a half to get to my camp. Saturday I drove 29 miles, from Cedar Hill to Farmington, on my way in, and it was the coldest I ever experienced. I had an inspector with me, from the Montana and Wyoming divisions. He said that although he had been out in the cold when the thermometer stood at 26 below zero, he had never experienced so much suffering as he did on that drive. Within 30 miles of us that drive, one man lost his life, and two lost their feet, by freezing."

"The Telluride branch, where the railroad sustained the greatest damage, is the same one damaged so badly by the Trout Lake flood several years ago."

HUFFMAN IS BOUND OVER TODAY

Switchman Who Took Gun From Watchman in Yards Held for Grand Jury in $500 Bond.

C. W. Huffman, who was caught last night at Sapalla was today bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 on the charge of having interfered with an officer in the performance of his duty. Huffman is alleged to have held up a watchman in the lower yards, night before last, and relieved him of his gun.

There are two other charges which may be pressed against Huffman, that of assaulting Ed Morris with a deadly weapon, and one of departing from the city without the formality of settling his room rent.

Huffman was captured last night after an exciting chase in which Special Agent Jack Krohn used a light engine to make the final heat on Huffman. A freight train from Las Vegas down to Lamy, and then found that his man had got to Chapelle, so he ordered out a light engine and got his man after a brief run.

Huffman's hearing this morning looked like a convention of Santa Fe special agents. There were three of them in attendance, as well as a deputy sheriff. The Santa Fe men seem to regard the indignity put upon one of their number by Huffman in taking his gun away from him.

The hold-up charge was pressed first because the Santa Fe furnished transportation to bring Huffman back to Albuquerque. The other charges will likely be made the subject of grand jury action.

The regular meeting of the Adah chapter No. 3, O. E. S., will be held this evening at the Masonic temple beginning at 7:30. All are urged to attend as there will be initiation and other important business.

Members of the Woodmen's Circle are requested to attend the funeral of William Collier, late husband of Governor Collier, tomorrow morning at the church of the Immaculate Conception at 9 o'clock.

The Markets

CONFIDENT TONE OF MARKET INCREASES

Editorial in Outlook by Mr. Roosevelt Has Stimulating Effect on the Unusually Bouyant Market.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

New York, Nov. 17.—The more confident spirit which was shown in the stock market yesterday continued to influence trading today. The demand expanded and during the morning the list advanced steadily. Although the buying was heaviest among the speculative stocks, gains ranging from one to three points were recorded in every quarter. The change from the heavy tone of the earlier part of the week was ascribed in part to cessation of the heavy profit taking sales. The views expressed by ex-President Roosevelt on the trust question also were referred to as a factor in stimulating the market.

Bullish enthusiasm grew with the upward march of prices. Extensive buying by important speculative interests conveyed the impression that large lines which had been sold higher up were being replaced. United States Steel touched 65 1/8, which brought it to within 1/4 of the highest figure reached since the collapse to 50 last month. A block of 5,000 shares was purchased at 64 5/8. Improvements were fully as large in various other influential stocks. American Smelting was up 3 1/4, Reading 2 1/2, Union Pacific 2 3/4, Amalgamated Copper 2 3/8, and Northern Pacific 1 1/4. Bonds were strong.

Dealings contracted and there was a trifling reaction. Subsequently the market rose easily to the highest again with the demand vigorous for Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper. London was a considerable factor in the forenoon advance.

Interest in the market died out to a considerable extent in the latter part of the day. Forecasts of tomorrow's bank statement indicate a cash loss of $6,000,000, principally as a result of the Canadian gold shipment. General Chemical jumped five points on the announcement of an extra 3 percent stock dividend.

The close was steady.

BETTER WEATHER

CAUMES SELLING PRESSURE
Chicago, Nov. 17.—Better weather prospects in the Araculic led to selling pressure here today in the wheat market. The opening was the same as last night to 1-4 lower. May started at $1.00 1/4-1/8 @100 1-4, unchanged to 1-4 off, and descended to $1.00 1/8-1/4. The close was easy, with May $1.00 1/8 @100 1-4, a loss of 1-8 @1-4 not.

Drenched fields made corn firm. May opened 1-8 @1-4 higher at 65 1/8 @45 1/8, and receded later to 65 1/4. The close was steady, at 65 for May, 1-4 under last night.

Oats were swayed entirely by corn. May started a shade to 1-8 up at 59 1/4 @59 1/4, but fell back to 59 1/8 @59 1/8.

The entire list of provisions turned weak. First transactions were a shade to 3/4 lower, with May delivery $16.90 @16.95 for pork, $25.75 @25.80 for lard and $3.72 @3.75 for ribs.

St. Louis Wool.

St. Louis, Nov. 17.—Wool steady; territory and western mediums, 17 @19c; fine mediums, 12 @18c; fine, 17 @25c.

Kansas City Livestock.

Kansas City Stockyards, Nov. 16.—There was a fine market on all kinds of cattle from the range country here last week, with the exception that some low class stock cattle sold 10 to 15 cents lower at the end of the week. Good stockers and feeders sold stronger. A shipment of yearlings from Mangford, Texas, 704 pounds, sold at $1.10, netting close to $2 per head. Beef steers from Colorado sold at $1.10 to $1.75, odd head at $1.90, and one steer at $7.00. Range heifers from Anglo-rado brought up to $2.00, and cows $4.50. The run of cattle here today is 15,000 head, and the market is strong to 10c higher. Buyers take the range cattle before they look at short fed natives, because the former kill out better. Buyers from the big plants here even go so far as to solicit natives of Colorado beef steers from salesmen. A fine lot of range cattle is here today, and sales are very satisfactory. Beef steers from Rifle sold at $5.40 to $5.75 for nearly everything, with a few head at $5.50, and cows at $3.75 to $4.25. Yearlings from Garrison brought $5.40 today, 590 pounds, and heifers in the same shipment brought $4.65. Thirty-five pairs of Old Mexico, direct, sold here today, steers at $4.00, weighing 750 pounds, cows at $3.75, stags at $2.75. Any throw-outs, and were called to cents higher by the salesmen. It is no market, and the only thing that can retard progress in that direction is a flood of half fat natives, and this is regarded as an impossibility, because the cattle are not believed to be in the country.

Hogs are coming freely, and the quality is improving. Packers expect a great bumper for all kinds, and prices advanced 5 to 10 cents last week. The run today is 3,000 head, which is three thousand more than was expected this morning, but they sold 5 to 10 cents higher, to $6.50, bulk $6.00 to $6.50. Local prices are practically the same per pound as Chicago for all kinds, and shippers from the east are not taking very many for that reason.

Sheep and lambs came in sparingly last week, and after several days of hesitation the market finally started upward, and went up 25 cents before it stopped at the end of the week. Supply today is 10,000 head, market 10 cents higher, best lambs today at $3.80. Because of lack of quality in range offerings, natives have been selling up to the top, but choice range lambs would probably bring upwards of $6.00. Texas Panhandle wethers, very fat, brought $1.00 last week, and light ewes are worth $3.75, light yearlings $4.50 to $4.75. The country is waking up to its need of feeding sheep and lambs, and everything moves promptly. Good weight lambs at $4.05 to $4.35, light lambs $4.10 to $4.25. Feeding and breeding ewes sell all the way from $2.00 to $2.75.

Walker and Walker, the new vaudeville team at the Orpheum have an act that is above the ordinary. They are good singers and dancers, and their comedy talk certainly pleases. There will be a new set of pictures today. At the Saturday matinee, 3 p. m., a bag of candy will be given free to each child.

ing to local conditions and requirements.

"Again the several universities of the west and many of the best colleges have already arranged their curricula and credits to accommodate the varied courses of study in the high schools of the west."

"The young man or young woman of today who completes a thorough manual training course or commercial course is allowed credit for each work in many of our best institutions."

"I repeat that, in my judgment, there is no contention on the part of the heads of state institutions to dominate the matter of the course of study for high schools. On the
